Policy Objective

Placemaking capitalises on a local community's assets, inspiration, and potential, ultimately creating good public spaces that promote people's health, happiness, and well being¹.

Policy objectives to meet the Tweed Community's goals for the built and natural environment are to:

- (a) develop collaborative partnerships between design professionals (planners, architects, urban designers), business, artists and arts related industries in appropriate Council capital works projects
- (b) cultivate a climate in which innovative and creative design contributes to the cultural life, livability and amenity of our Shire
- (c) integrate art, design and planning processes by all levels of government and the private sector
- (d) involve the wider community in the creative and planning processes
- (e) ensure that all existing cultural assets and the procuring of future Public Art are managed, maintained and conducted in an appropriate and professional manner
- (f) include Public Art as an integral component in all suitable capital works projects undertaken by Council
- (g) provide opportunities to engage artists in creative and income generating projects
- (h) maintain a register of Council's artwork and include the works in Council's Assets Management Program

Definitions

Public Art is defined in the broader sense as artistic works or activities created for, located in, or part of a public space or facility. The term also encompasses the conceptual contribution of the artist/s to the design of public spaces and facilities.

Placemaking is a multi-faceted approach to the planning, design and management of public spaces. Put simply, it involves looking at, listening to, and asking questions of the people who live, work and play in a particular space, to discover their needs and aspirations².

Policy Background

This Placemaking and Public Art Policy provides a blueprint to guide our approach to public art and a means to formalise the process by which Council will manage and preserve existing and future cultural resources.

The Placemaking and Public Art Policy demonstrates Council's commitment to the four themes identified in Council's Community Strategic Plan 2013/2023:

Civic Leadership – Tweed Shire's Placemaking and Public Art Policy recognises Council's responsibility to manage projects sustainably and strategically while maintaining existing Public Art assets. It achieves this through clear policy strategies, procedures and protocols which meet best practice standards. The Policy sets its objectives and priorities through ongoing community consultation and inclusion.

Supporting Community Life - Tweed Shire Council recognises that Placemaking and Public Art have a proven impact in creating healthy, safe and connected communities. This Policy is a core strategy in improving the quality of community life and creating civic pride. Placemaking and Public Art strategies and projects are created in harmony with the natural environment.

Strengthening the Economy – This Policy recognises the role of Placemaking and Public Art in strengthening the local economy through the rejuvenation of the Tweed Heads and Murwillumbah CBDs as well as other locales in the Shire. With tourism a core industry in the Tweed, high quality integration of art into public spaces improves the aesthetic appeal of the region and increases cultural tourism opportunities. Projects themselves create employment opportunities for local artists and designers.

Caring for the Environment – The Placemaking and Public Art Policy values projects which celebrate and complement the natural environment. By increasing civic pride, the Policy aims to increase community value, respect and participation in the care and management of both natural and built environments in the Tweed. Placemaking and Public Art in the Tweed encourages access to existing services, protects the village character, enhances safety of public spaces and honours peaceful surroundings.

Policy

4. Research and pursue funding and sponsorship potential at all levels of government and private sector.
5. Investigate opportunities for Section 94 Contribution Plans to include Public Art.
6. Develop innovative strategic partnership projects with other levels of government and the private sector.

b) Liability

The Artist and/or the Commissioner will be liable for any loss or damage arising at Common Law or under any statute relating to property damage and personal injury during construction and installation of the Work.

Tweed Shire Council will take out appropriate public liability insurance cover and indemnify and keep indemnified the Artist in connection with the work on completion of the installation of the Work.

c) Moral Rights

Tweed Shire Council is obliged to:

Identify the creator of the Work wherever the Work is exhibited to the public and whenever the Work is reproduced in a material form, published, or broadcast.

Ensure, to its best endeavours that the Work or any adaptation of the Work will not be subject to any material distortion, mutilation or alteration that is unreasonable or is prejudicial to the honour or reputation of the Artist.

d) Title and Copyright

In the event that the Work is to be disposed of other than through the sale or donation of the work, the Artist will, where possible, be given the option to acquire the work.

Review Period

This policy will be reviewed within 12 months of the election of each new Council or more frequently in the event of any legislative changes or change in circumstances.
