Mosquito breeding now in full flight after rain

Council is calling on residents to do their bit to reduce mosquito breeding habitat around their homes, as the recent tide and rainfall events across the Tweed Shire have created ideal conditions for mosquito breeding.

Council's Pest Management Supervisor, Brian Falkner, said the rains, coupled with high tides, have caused temporary pools of water which provide great breeding habitat for mosquitoes.

"This is a concern, given the potential of serious mosquito-borne infections, as well as the general nuisance factor from these biting insects," Mr Falkner said.

"As a matter of priority, Council has been carrying out mosquito larvae control works in key breeding areas by air and through ground works. We will be doing this on an ongoing basis while this problem persists.

"An important message that we would like to send out to the community is that some mosquito species breed in water-filled containers around your home, such as buckets, old tyres, poorly-aligned roof gutters and pot plant holders. It is very important that you don't let your home be a haven for mosquitoes and their larvae," he said.

What you can do:

- Keep your yard well-maintained, mow lawns regularly, and limit areas of dense vegetation

- Ensure you cover all windows, doors, chimneys, vents and other entrances with insect screens that are in good condition
- Clean up your yard and remove all water-holding containers or rubbish and keep house gutters clean and properly aligned
- Empty and refill pet water bowls and bird baths at least weekly
- Ensure all openings to water tanks and septic tanks are screened securely
- Place sand or fine gravel in pot plant trays, or flush them out weekly
- Keep ornamental ponds stocked with native fish species that will feed on larvae

Come and celebrate with us

You're invited to fundraising morning teas at Council offices this week to celebrate Breast Cancer Month.

Once again, Council staff have decorated bras for the cause – this year's theme is 'Iconic Films and Locations of the Tweed' – on display in the Tweed Heads Administration Building foyer.

The display includes the first all-male entry, with a bra decorated by Council engineers and Linda Gleave's Fern Gully inspired bra (pictured).

The Murwillumbah office features last year's impressive decorated bras.

Council's fundraising efforts for the Pink Ribbon Foundation for a number of years have been recognised with 'VIP' status.

Come along to join the fun at the Tweed Heads morning tea on Wednesday 25 October at 10am, or the Murwillumbah office morning tea on Thursday 26 October, also at 10am.

Priscilla screening for 'yes' vote

A number of Tweed Shire Councillors will host a special screening of the Australian hit film The Adventures of Priscilla, Queen of the Desert this Friday in Murwillumbah.

The event is being held to show Council's resolution to support a 'yes' vote in the current survey on amendments to the Marriage Act and to encourage people to return their forms if they haven't already done so.

The screening will be at the Regent Cinema in Brisbane Street on Friday 27 October at 6.30pm to 7pm. Entry is by donation, with all funds going to benefit youth mental health service, Headspace. For more information about the resolution, see www.tweed.nsw.gov.au/Newsroom/2197

Jesse's got the Wright thinking

Tweed Shire Youth Council member Jesse Wright has been named a finalist in the global Breakthrough Junior Challenge designed to inspire creative thinking about science.

The challenge attracts thousands of entries from students aged between 13 and 18 years from across the world in which they produce an original video that brings to life a concept or theory in the life sciences, physics or mathematics.

Seventeen-year-old Jesse is in Year 11 at Mount St Patrick College Murwillumbah. He is School Captain, a Tweed Shire youth councillor, an extension maths and chemistry student and one of just 30 people worldwide to make the final.

Voting opens on Monday 23 October and closes on Thursday 2 November.

To vote, view the finalist videos on the Breakthrough Facebook page and 'like', 'share' or make a positive comment about the one you most like. The top scorer will then be invited to attend the Breakthrough Prize Awards in San Francisco on Sunday 3 December where the winner will be announced.

Youth Councillor Jesse Wright has been named one of 30 global finalists in the Breakthrough Junior Challenge, designed to inspire creative thinking about science.

Tweed Heads Museum open

A unique and valuable piece of Tweed Heads history was officially reopened with a ceremony at Tweed Regional Museum Tweed Heads .

Around 80 Tweed Heads Historical Society members, community leaders and other guests gathered in the restored Tweed Heads Court House building to celebrate the completion of Stage 1 of the Tweed Heads Museum upgrade.

The Court House, now the centrepiece of Tweed Regional Museum Tweed Heads, has been restored and upgraded to provide an interactive experience of the building and surrounding area.

Guests were told the Court House and accompanying buildings at the Museum offered a “rare and important opportunity to bring this history to life, and to preserve and share it”.

Tweed Regional Museum Director Judy Kean (left), Consultant Curator Meg McKavanagh and Tweed Heads Historical Society President Ross Johnson in the upgraded Museum.

Stage 1 of the upgrade included construction of a research room for the Historical Society. Stage 2 will include restoration of Boyd’s Shed and the Deckhouse.

Tweed Regional Museum Tweed Heads is open from Sunday to Wednesday 10am to 4pm. More information is available at museum.tweed.nsw.gov.au/

Rosie’s the people’s choice

Michael Cook’s close-up portrait Memories has been voted the public’s favourite in the Olive Cotton Award People’s Choice Award, with visitors describing it as a “profound” and “powerful” image.

The well-known Sunshine Coast photographer was thrilled with the news and indicated he would be giving the $250 winner’s prize to Rosie, the subject of his black and white portrait.

Visitors to the Tweed Regional Gallery & Margaret Olley Art Centre said the detailed portrait effectively captured Rosie’s character by starkly depicting what a number of voters described as her “life lines”.

Cook described Rosie as a beautiful person who introduced him to bush tucker and is everyone’s favourite grandmother in her community.

Hundreds of visitors took the opportunity to vote for their favourite work from the 72 finalists – a record number of entries – in the People’s Choice Award, funded by the Friends of the Tweed Regional Gallery & Margaret Olley Art Centre Inc..

Council seeking your help to help you

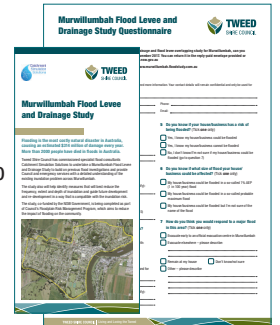

Council is asking residents and businesses in Central Murwillumbah to tell them of their experience in floods to help guide future development and re-development in a way that is compatible with the inundation risk.

Information about the study and a questionnaire will arrive in Central Murwillumbah mailboxes in the next week or so.

The Murwillumbah Flood Levee and Drainage Study, co funded by the NSW Government and being undertaken by flood consultants Catchment Simulation Solutions, is designed to help identify measures that will best reduce the frequency, extent and depth of inundation in Central Murwillumbah.

South Murwillumbah is not included in this study but is likely to be the subject of a future study.

“We urge all the residents and businesses who receive a questionnaire in the mail to complete and return it so that we get the best local information available to assist us to reduce the impact of floods on this part of town,” Manager Roads and Stormwater Danny Rose said.

FOX TRAPPING PROGRAMS ON THE TWEED COAST: 6–11 NOVEMBER 2017

Vertebrate pest control to protect threatened fauna

Fox trapping will be implemented in areas of priority bushland on the Tweed Coast commencing 6 November 2017 and continuing until 11 November 2017. Trapping sites have been identified through detector dog surveys and ongoing camera monitoring.

Foxes pose a serious threat to native fauna. This fox trapping program is a conservation initiative which aims to remove foxes to benefit threatened fauna like the Bush Stone-curlew, Beach Stone-curlew and Green and Loggerhead Turtles.

The trapping sites are: Tweed Byron Local Aboriginal Land Council land on Fingal Peninsula and Letitia Spit (see map opposite); and two areas of Council managed bushland – south of Norries Head (see map opposite) and Kellehers Road (not shown).

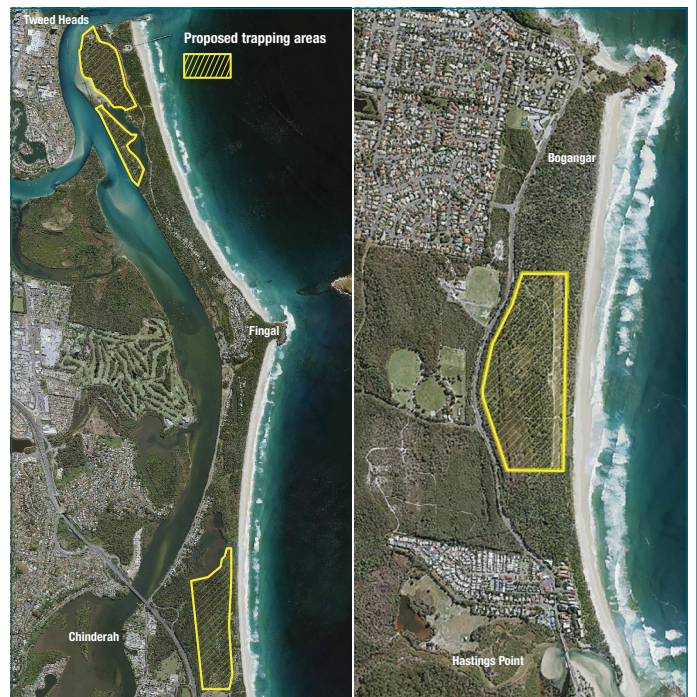

Access to all three trapping sites is prohibited between 6 and 11 November 2017. All tracks leading into trapping areas will be clearly signposted.

It is your responsibility to ensure that you keep your domestic pets out of these areas. If any domestic pets are caught in traps they will be taken to Tweed Shire Council Pound.

This trapping program is being implemented in conjunction with a 1080 wild dog/fox baiting program that commenced in the Tweed Coast District on Monday, 21 August 2017 continuing to Wednesday, 31 January 2018.

This Project has been assisted by the New South Wales Government through its Environmental Trust and Public Reserves Management Fund Programs.

If you would like any further information on the fox trapping program please contact Council’s Program Leader – Pest Management Pamela Gray on (02) 6670 2400.

Eviron cemetery gardens win the gong again

Growing awareness of water conservation is transforming the Tweed's district garden competition, with many entries converting to native varieties.

Tweed cemeteries have joined the switch to water-efficient natives, while continuing their domination of the Large Commercial Section in the Murwillumbah & District Garden Club annual competition.

Council-operated cemeteries have again snared the top honours in 2017, with Tweed Valley Cemetery at Eviron topping the category and Murwillumbah Lawn Cemetery finishing runner-up.

Council's Recreation Services Unit also had success in the Small Commercial Garden category, with Riveroak Drive Park named runner-up.

Murwillumbah Garden Club representative Wayne Taggett, in presenting the awards, said the cemeteries no longer planted annuals in its gardens but had succeeded in maintaining good colour in the cemeteries' spectacular grounds.

"That bright colour can make a lot of difference and bring comfort for people visiting.

"It's worth a visit to the Eviron cemetery just to have a look at its spectacular gardens."

Nominees announced

A concert organiser, touch football team, farmers' market and dress shop are among the nominees for the 2017 Tweed Shire Access and Inclusion Awards, which will culminate in an awards ceremony on Wednesday 29 November.

A strong list of nominees is in contention for this year's Business category, including pharmacies, cafes and physio services, as well as a surf school, cinema and hotel.

"The list of businesses and their initiatives being recognised is tremendous," Council's Community Development Officer – Ageing and Disability, Karen Collins said.

"The diversity of initiatives throughout the categories is remarkable this year, from sporting activities and teams for children with special needs to programs for people with drug dependencies.

"A category introduced this year to recognise initiatives to assist people with dementia has also unearth some terrific programs."

Ms Collins, one of the awards' coordinators, said while there were many businesses and organisations nominated for providing physically accessible premises, they were complemented by a number of groups who were taking their services out into the community.

The full list of 26 nominees includes a number of overall champions from previous years, with 2015 winner Pottsville Beach Neighbourhood Centre receiving four nominations.

"However, there are many newcomers this year, representing many parts of the Tweed," she said.

Visit www.tweed.nsw.gov.au/AccessInclusionAwards to see all the nominees.

Shire library upgrades

Tweed library services will experience some delays in November, as resources are moved back into the expanded Tweed Heads building and new technology is installed at the other two libraries.

Murwillumbah Library will be closed to the public for a few hours on Tuesday 7 November and again on Wednesday 15 November, from 7.30am to 2pm on both days, while new loan stations and gates are installed, to enable self-service borrowing for users.

The stations, gates and associated infrastructure will be installed at Kingscliff Library on Wednesday 8 November and Thursday 16 November, also from 7am to 2.30pm.

The temporary Tweed Heads Library building will close to the public from Monday 13 November, when Richmond Tweed Regional Library staff and contractors will start moving resources into the new building.

The new library space is scheduled to open on Wednesday 6 December.

A number of services will continue to be available to the public during this time. The temporary computer room at the Tweed Heads Administration Centre will remain available, apart from a one-day interruption on a date to be announced, and free wi-fi in and around the building will continue except for some disruptions between Monday 13 November and Wednesday 15 November.

Reservation fees are suspended until the new building opens on 6 December and visits by the mobile library to Tweed Heads on 13 November and 27 November will assist with browsing collection items and collecting reserved materials.

It's a virus, not a new Star Wars character

Rabbit owners in the Tweed are advised to take precautions to vaccinate their pets against a new calicivirus strain that may be released in the area.

"The new strain, RHDV1 K5, was first released nationally as a biological control in February 2017 and may be released in the Tweed in late November," Council Coordinator Natural Resource Management, Jane Lofthouse, said.

"Council strongly urges residents with pet rabbits to have them vaccinated as soon as possible to reduce the chances of their rabbit catching the virus."

Victorian Acting Chief Veterinary Officer Dr Cameron Bell, has advised the current vaccine was expected to provide good protection against all strains of the RHDV1 virus, including the K5 strain. However, the recommended vaccination frequency is now every six months, instead of every 12 months.

"Wild rabbits in the Tweed include the European wild rabbit and escaped or dumped free-living domestic rabbits," Ms Lofthouse said.

"Rabbits are increasingly becoming an urban issue as domestic rabbits escape or are deliberately released. These breed and build up large wild populations. These rabbits cause a lot of localised destruction to property and the environment.

"Residents report that rabbits are damaging gardens, undermining house footings, destroying house termite barriers and bringing wild dogs, foxes and brown snakes closer to human habitation."

Some Tweed Shire residents have been feeding free-living rabbits that, while not a pet, have become quite tame. Council has rabbit cage traps for loan for residents who wish to trap tame rabbits. These rabbits can be surrendered to The Rabbit Sanctuary for rehoming. The Rabbit Sanctuary can be contacted on 0416 062 947.

For more information on the release of the biological control, please contact Amy Hockings at North Coast Local Land Services on (02) 6623 3906.

Kennedy Drive in brief ...

Kennedy Drive motorists are asked to slow down on Tuesday 24 October to allow Council workers to repair a damaged bridge railing on the bridge across Cobaki Creek near the Gollan Drive and Piggabeen Road intersection, Tweed Heads West.

The workers will be working from the footpath with both traffic lanes still open but restricted to 40km/h through the worksite.

The work is scheduled from 10am–2pm.

Cool bin tips for summer

Warm summer months bring some seasonal bin issues but there are simple steps to keep bins more fresh.

Storing bins in shaded and well ventilated areas, keeping bins sealed and low-cost deodorisers are among many measures to prevent problems such as a smell and flies.

A new Tips For Summer page on Council's website provides many ideas for households on issues such as nappies, food scraps, flies and bin odours. Visit www.tweed.nsw.gov.au/SummertimeTipsforBins

They include natural products to deodorise bins, including cloves and eucalyptus oil, or fly deterrents such as basil, mint and lavender.

It also lists low-cost products available to buy to eliminate insects and deodorise bins.

Further information about bin services is available at www.tweed.nsw.gov.au/Binservices or by phoning (02) 6670 2400.
