New Doon Doon bridge for dam raising

Council will build a new bridge parallel to the existing McCabe's Bridge at Doon Doon to provide road access to residents of Commissioners Creek after the wall of Clarrie Hall Dam is raised.

The decision followed a number of studies and 12 months' consultation with the affected residents. The residents nominated a new bridge as their preferred option at a stakeholder meeting at Doon Doon Hall on Tuesday 20 March.

The residents' preference was presented to Council as the preferred option and adopted unanimously.

Council will now begin work on the detailed design and environmental assessment for constructing the new bridge on a parallel alignment to the existing bridge. This work will take about a year.

The new bridge will be six metres higher than the existing bridge and require the raising and upgrading of 700 metres of road approach on both sides. It will be a three-span, 50-metre-long concrete bridge with two four-metre-wide traffic lanes and will cost about $6 million.

The existing bridge will remain in use during bridge construction, which may begin as early as 2019. Construction to raise the wall of the dam is due to start in 2023.

At the request of the community, Council undertook a detailed investigation of four options to provide continuing road access into the area after McCabe's Bridge is inundated. The option preferred by the community was the cheapest, would result in the least environmental disturbance, harm to native flora and fauna and impact on areas of Aboriginal cultural significance and disruption to residents during construction.

The other options were for a new bridge on the existing alignment and two road options linking Doon Doon Road and Commissioners Creek Road. More information on all options can be found on the Raising Clarrie Hall Dam project page on Your Say Tweed.

Last week's decision marks a milestone in the project, which kicked off on 10 December 2015 when Council resolved that 'based on the information currently available, Council adopts the raising of the wall of the Clarrie Hall Dam as the preferred option for future water security and proceeds with the planning, approval and land acquisitions phase for the project'.

The Concept Design for raising the wall of the dam is being undertaken by New South Wales Public Works, which built the dam in 1982. Land acquisitions are continuing, with 60 per cent of the required purchases completed or under contract. Work has also begun to engage an independent consultant to prepare the Environmental Impact Statement. The process to prepare the Environmental Impact Statement will take about two years before it goes on public exhibition in mid-2020 for community comment.

By early 2021, the project will be set to face its final hurdle before construction begins after a second independent consultant assesses all documentation and public submissions and makes a recommendation to the Minister to proceed or terminate the project.

In brief...

Road repairs ramping up

More and more road closures are being scheduled in the shire as Council contractors ramp up repairs of the major bridge, culvert and road damages caused by the March 2017 flood.

This week, Byrill Creek Road at Terragon will be closed to all traffic until late on Saturday 5 May while contractors repair the bridge abutment.

Traffic will be let through the worksite on the hour every hour to avoid a lengthy detour via Kyogle Road from the south or Limpinwood Road from the north.

For other scheduled road closures and road work information, see Road Wrap.

Curtain Call on show

Curtain Call, an exhibition of paintings, drawings and etchings by Sydney-based artist Andrew Antoniou, is on display at the Tweed Regional Gallery until Sunday 7 October.

Curtain Call relates to Antoniou's immersion into the world of theatre, particularly that of the Absurdist movement.

Gallery Director, Susi Muddiman, OAM, said this significant body of work was based on Antoniou's ongoing research and engagement with the concepts of Absurdist Theatre.

"The translation of these ideas through an accessible visual art form will allow viewers to engage with a new yet timeless expression of a theatrical tradition, which is increasingly relevant to the challenges faced in an often confusing contemporary world," Ms Muddiman said.

The exhibition opened last Friday but the official opening will be on Friday 25 May at 6pm, alongside Subdivision: Georgie Maddox.

Fishers of all ages are invited to help in the eradication of tilapia – the 'cane toad' of Australian waterways.

BYO rod and bust tilapia

Everyone with a fishing rod is invited to participate in a fishing tournament at Cabarita on Saturday 12 May to reduce the population of the invasive tilapia.

The Cudgen Tilapia Buster, hosted in partnership with Conservation Volunteers Australia and the NSW Department of Primary Industries, aims to put a dent in the local population and promote awareness about the species and how their spread can be controlled.

Tilapia is a fish species from Africa, which has been described as the cane toad of Australian waterways as they out-compete native fish for habitat and food. But despite this reputation, they are a popular eating fish worldwide, known for their mild taste.

Council Waterways Program Leader Tom Alletson said tilapia have been caught in high numbers in the Bogangar canal system and Cudgen Lake.

"Eradication of tilapia from a natural waterway is considered to be impossible so it is now extremely important for tilapia to be kept out of the Tweed River and all other waterways in NSW," Mr Alletson said.

To complete, BYO fishing gear and fishing licence to 38 Cabarita Road, Bogangar, and register at the Conservation Volunteers marquee between 9am-3pm to be eligible to win prizes for catching the most and the heaviest tilapia in both the adult and junior competitions.

All competitors will get a free brag-mat, wristband and pest fish ID card. There'll also be a number of experts speaking about tilapia between 11am and 12pm, plus educational resources for all.
