

The Murwillumbah Show, circa 1900. The town's annual show is still held at these grounds.

Show still champion 120 years later

Tweed Shire's long running agricultural show is the subject of the latest exhibition at the Tweed Regional Museum.

Kicking off in 1898 and still going strong 120 years later, the Murwillumbah Show has provided an unparalleled opportunity to celebrate the best of local agriculture and produce.

Museum Director Judy Kean said while the show was a showcase for talent of all kinds it also provided an occasion for socialising and having fun.

"The Museum's new exhibition Chutney, Chooks and Champions: Stories from the Show celebrates the people, produce and animals – and the making and baking – which are the heart and soul of every show," Ms Kean said.

"We haven't forgotten sideshow alley, or the tradition of 'frocking up' and the exhibition features some great footage from the 1950s and '60s heyday of heading off to the show in a brand new outfit with money to spend.

"As well as certificates and ribbons dating from 1907 and many stories of triumph and tragedy, we are particularly excited to have commissioned a short film and a number of video interviews especially for the exhibition."

Suellen Baker's short film Show People features some spectacular drone footage of the showground and surrounding country, and is a wonderfully quirky and heart-warming story of some dedicated locals.

Commissioned videos feature legendary dairy farmer, Jersey breeder and exhibitor Pat McDonald, along with international poultry judge and Tweed local Grame Hopf, as well as a follow-up interview with Alistair Ault, the subject of a 1969 doco Junior Stud Master.

Exhibition curator Erika Taylor said the amazing story of Alice Haigh is typical of the skills, passion and competitive instincts many exhibitors bring to the Show.

"Alice entered an astonishing range of pickles, preserves, jams, cakes and other produce in the show almost every year from 1916 until 1963, two years before her death, all of which was grown in her own garden and made on the family farm," Ms Taylor said.

"The exhibition is not just about past shows, we're working with members of the Tweed River Agricultural Society on the exhibition and are delighted they've agreed to add a new category to the pavilion entries this year."

A new fermentation category, sponsored by the Tweed Regional Museum, will include sections for sauerkraut, kombucha and kim chi.

Hopefully those already fermenting will enter – but for those who haven't yet caught the bug, the Museum will be running a series of 'how to' workshops in the lead up to the 2018 Show.

Chutney, Chooks and Champions: Stories from the Show opens to the public on Tuesday 8 May.

For details of workshops and other events offered as part of the exhibition, visit the Museum's website at museum.tweed.nsw.gov.au

MC<sup>2</sup> musicians soundtrack for Art Trail

Those attending the first big day of the Murwillumbah Art Trail (MAT18) event will enjoy the musical accompaniment of more than two dozen local acts to go along with the great works of art on display.

Council will sponsor a day of music in 10 art trail venues on Saturday 19 May as part of the Musicians Connecting Communities, or MC<sup>2</sup> initiative.

Council Community Development Officer Cultural Planning David Burgener said the goal of the program was to offer a chance for musicians to play in the shire and connect with local venues.

"One of our intentions is to establish relationships between Council, musicians and venue owners," Mr Burgener said.

"The idea is to help support live music in the shire by providing a family-friendly event the whole community can enjoy.

"We are grateful for the opportunity to collaborate with MAT18, because it helps ensure the musicians are introduced to a wider audience," Mr Burgener said.

"The music will also enhance the art trail and help create a great atmosphere."

The event follows on from the first MC<sup>2</sup> mini festival in Kingscliff on April 28, which was well received despite poor weather on the day.

"What the experience in Kingscliff highlighted was the amazing amount of talent we have in Tweed Shire," Mr Burgener said.

"We saw a very diverse range of performers on the day, so there's no doubt there will be someone on the bill to appeal to everyone's taste."

Another focus of the festivals will be an attempt to support the establishment of mentoring situations, especially for emerging artists just starting out on their musical careers.

"The name, Musicians Connecting Communities (MC<sup>2</sup>) really captures what the program is all about," said Mr Burgener.

"We know the talent is out there and if Council can do something to help bring it along it is a worthwhile investment on many levels.

"Music plays an important role in supporting a vibrant community, not only for the artists involved or the local economy, but also when it comes to making connections between individuals and organisations."

Visit Council's Facebook page for more information, including a full lineup of acts performing in Murwillumbah.

The events are the result of a successful grant application made by Council to the Live Music Office's Live and Local Initiative, funded by CREATE NSW.

In brief ...

Discover the secret life of your cat!

Are you curious about where your cat goes when it's outside?

You can volunteer your pet cat for tracking using a simple GPS tracker for one week.

Tweed Shire Council has partnered with South Australia University as part of its project to examine cat movements across Australia.

To volunteer your cat, check out the website at www.discoverycircle.org.au

This project is funded by the NSW Environmental Trust.

Access ALL AREAS

May edition

Access means you can go where you need to in the community. This includes into buildings, on transport, in parks and to events. It means there are toilets you can use. Inclusion means you feel part of the community and you get fair service. To tell us if there are barriers to access in the community, contact Council at the Customer Service Centre on (02) 6670 2400 or email tsc@tweed.nsw.gov.au

Have your say – community input for the next Access and Inclusion Plan

It is time for us to make a new Access and Inclusion Plan. The next plan will go to 2021. We want to make sure the right things are in the next plan to build on what we started in 2014.

In 2014, Council made its first plan to improve access and inclusion in Tweed Shire. We made the plan after talking to lots of people about barriers that prevent them being part of the community. This plan ends in August 2018.

There are a number of ways you can be involved including online, by phone and face to face. We want to hear from everyone interested in making our community inclusive and welcoming to all who live here or come as visitors.

Help us make the next plan by telling us what more we need to do to make our community accessible and inclusive.

How to have your say

You can fill out a survey by going to www.yoursaytweed.com.au

If you have a disability or care for someone with a disability, there is a detailed survey available as well as the community survey. You can also register on yoursaytweed and be part of the online forum. If you would like to talk to someone about access and inclusion in Tweed Shire, you can call Council on (02) 6670 2400.

Get help to put your NDIS plan into action

Tweed Community Services is a registered NDIS service provider. Our service will help with your Support Coordination and Plan Management. For help, call (07) 5569 3110 or email copemails@tweed.nsw.gov.au

Help with making your NDIS plan

If you need help making your NDIS plan you can call Ability Linkers on 1300 792 940, Local Area Coordinators on 1800 522 679 or go to www.ndis.gov.au or phone 1800 800 110.

Nightworks delay for art's sake

Council has delayed the start of nightworks to rebuild sections of Wollumbin and Brisbane streets, Murwillumbah, to allow the Murwillumbah Art Trail event to proceed unhindered.

The works, which were due to start on Sunday 20 May, will now start on Sunday 27 May.

When works start, the road sections will be closed to traffic from 7pm to 6am on work nights (Sunday to Thursday only) and reopened under changed traffic conditions during the day.

The work to mill off the old road pavement, apply deep-lift asphalt and then a final asphalt wearing surface is being done at night to minimise disruption to business.

The work will begin at the roundabout on the corner of Commercial Road and move west to the roundabout at the corner of Brisbane Street. The contractors will then turn north and rebuild Brisbane Street, from the roundabout to the pedestrian crossing just shy of Murwillumbah (Main) Street.

Initially, Wollumbin Street, from Commercial Road to Brisbane Street, will be closed to all traffic on work nights for four weeks, weather permitting. Then, Brisbane Street, from the roundabout to just shy of Main Street, will be closed for a week.

Pedestrians will still be able to use the footpaths at night to access Wollumbin Street restaurants. The drive-through at Kentucky Fried Chicken will remain open during the works but customers will be asked to enter and exit via Proudfoots Lane.

Stay up late with a palette of artists

Don't miss this opportunity to hear from four of Australia's leading contemporary painters. Come along to the Gallery to hear these artists discuss their interpretation of one of the country's great artists.

John Honeywill, Guy Maestri, Lewis Miller and Monica Rohan responded to Margaret Olley's home studio for the exhibition A painter's house. The artists created works inspired by the re-creation of the studio at the Tweed Regional Gallery & Margaret Olley Art Centre using objects they chose from her home.

A painter's house, which runs until 7 October, features their work alongside paintings by Olley from the collections of Tweed Regional Gallery, the Art Gallery of New South Wales, Maitland Regional Gallery, the University of Queensland Art Museum and private collections.

The artists, along with museologist Sally Watterson, who oversaw the studio re-creation, which involved the transfer of more than 21,000 meticulously arranged objects, will speak in a panel discussion at a special Gallery Up Late event on Friday 11 May starting at 6.30pm.

The panel will share insights into the re-creation and its reinvigoration as subject matter for painting.

Margaret Olley Art Centre Curator Ingrid Hedgcock, who will host the event, said the exhibition views these objects from a fresh perspective.

"For Olley, her home was first and foremost a studio – a painter's house," Ms Hedgcock said.

"While she worked, her studio changed like a vibrant living ecosystem of art and life entwined; in her words, it was 'a subject of endless possibilities'."

Entry to the Gallery Up Late event will include after-hours access (5–8pm) to the Gallery and to the Café, which will offer a full menu for dining prior to the discussion.

Places are limited and bookings are essential through www.trybooking.com/UCDO. Entry is $15 or $10 for students or Gallery Friends and Foundation members.

The low-down on dung beetles exposed

Tweed Shire Council and Tweed Landcare Inc. have held a free workshop for Tweed graziers to learn about the benefits of dung beetles and how to increase beetle populations on their farms.

Dung beetles play a critical role in any sustainable livestock production system by transporting dung below ground and digesting its contents.

Council's Program Leader – Sustainable Agriculture, Eli Szandala said dung improved soil structure and pasture productivity while significantly reducing nutrient and soil runoff into waterways.

"Improving beetle populations also benefits animal welfare by reducing pest fly populations and reducing costs and exposure to chemical controls," Mr Szandala said.

The workshop featured a number of experts, including Dr Bernard Doube of Dung Beetle Solutions, North Coast Local Land Services district veterinarian Dr Phil Kemsley and Southern Cross University researchers Lucas Hopkins and Dr John Grant.

Mr Szandala said the speakers provided a number of valuable tips for local livestock producers to increase beetle populations and diversity.

"The key is avoiding or minimising the use of non-beetle friendly chemicals when treating for buffalo flies and gut worms," he said.

"Graziers can consult with their vet and work through the North Coast Local Land Services Beef Cattle Health and Husbandry for the NSW North Coast guide to develop a long-term cattle health and management program for their property.

To learn more about Council's Sustainable Agriculture Program or participate in future workshops, field days and on-ground projects, contact Mr Szandala on (02) 6670 2400.

Dung beetles are beneficial to sustainable livestock production.

Apply now for grants

Community organisations in the Tweed can now apply for the next round of funding for local projects under the NSW Government's Infrastructure Grants program. The grants are funded through the Clubgrants Category 3 program, which enables registered clubs to reinvest profits from gaming machine revenue to benefit local communities.

Grants can be used towards the costs of construction, alteration, renovation, completion and fit out of infrastructure in the following areas: Arts and Culture: $50,000 to $200,000 available per project; Emergency Preparedness: $10,000 to $200,000; and Sport and Recreation: $100,000 to $300,000.

For more information including details on how to apply for grants, visit www.responsiblegambling.nsw.gov.au. Applications close 21 May 2018.

Remembering all mums

Tweed Shire Council, in conjunction with Murwillumbah Churches Together, will be hosting the fifth annual Mother's Day Memorial Service.

The service will be held at Tweed Valley Chapel, Eviron Road, Eviron, on Friday 11 May 2018 at 11am.

John Stennett, who is organising the event on Council's behalf, said the service had been very popular with Tweed residents.

"These memorial services are an opportunity for people to take time out of their busy lives to reflect, contemplate and receive encouragement and support in their loss of loved ones," Mr Stennett said.

"While many people struggle with a loved one's passing, those who have attended these special memorial services have often commented on the encouragement they have received."

The service will be conducted by members of the Murwillumbah Churches Together group, including Pastor Bob Spence, Reverend Lyndon Mulholland, Elder Don Way and Pastor Rob Stutle.

Pastor Stutle said he has had very positive feedback over the years from members of his congregation about the service.

"Life gets busy for all of us and having an opportunity like this to mark the passing of a parent is something many people see as important," Pastor Stutle said.

"The simple act of lighting a candle, which is included as part of the service, can act as an important point of focus.

"Many people feel an element of loneliness associated with their loss and gathering like this, with the opportunity to share a cup of tea and a chat afterwards with someone who may be dealing with a similar situation, can be very helpful."

Light refreshments will be served and no RSVP is required to attend the service. For more information ring (02) 6670 2435.

Teaching someone to drive can be a happy experience

Are you sitting in the passenger seat supervising a learner driver? If so, this free workshop is for you.

Parents and supervisors of learner drivers are invited to attend a 'Helping Learner Drivers Become Safer Drivers' workshop in the Coolamon Room at the Banora Point Community Centre on the corner of Leisure and Woodlands drives, Banora Point, on Thursday 17 May from 5.30pm to 7.30pm.

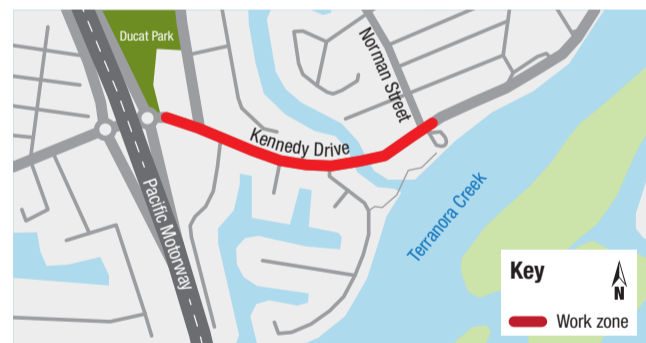

The Roads and Maritime Services workshop will help build your confidence in how to provide an effective and safe practice session for your learner driver.

"Parents and supervisors play an important role in providing young drivers with the experience they need to be safe on the roads," Council Road Safety Officer Alana Brooks said. "This course has been developed to help them teach with confidence."

The workshop will include information on license conditions for learner and P-plate drivers, tips for using the learner driver logbook and the importance of providing constructive feedback.

"Young drivers are most at risk within the first year of solo driving, so it is vital that parents and supervisors pass on the right information and provide ongoing support to keep them safe," Ms Brooks said.

Bookings are essential and can be made by calling (02) 6764 6623 or emailing roadsafety@joblinkplus.com.au. For more information, visit www.rms.nsw.gov.au

Works on Kennedy Drive will be from the roundabout east of the motorway underpass to the Norman Street intersection.

Nightworks on Kennedy

Motorists are asked to avoid Kennedy Drive, from the Pacific Motorway east to Norman Street, at night for three weeks from Sunday 20 May as Council contractors re-do the asphalt pavement.

The work will run from the concrete roundabout east of the motorway underpass to the Norman Street intersection. While the section will remain open to traffic during work hours from 7pm to 6am from Sunday to Thursday (no work on Friday and Saturday nights), motorists should expect delays.

Heavy machinery will be used to mill off the old road pavement before deep-lift asphalt is applied and then the final asphalt wearing surface.

In the week from Sunday 20 May to Thursday 31 May, the work zone will be from the roundabout to the bridge west of Norman Street. Then, from Sunday 3 June to Thursday 7 June, it will be from the bridge to Norman Street.

Electronic signage on site will inform motorists of any change to the schedule due to weather or contractor availability.

The upgrade is being funded by the New South Wales Government's Roads and Maritime Service (RMS) and must be completed prior to 30 June 2018.

Modification Application for public comment

The NSW Land and Environment Court has granted the applicant leave to amend the modification application the subject of Proceedings No. 17/307373.

Modification Application No. DA03/0445.03 now seeks to delete Condition No. 3 of Development Consent DA03/0445 (regarding truck size), as well as those conditions imposed per the General Terms of Approval for Integrated Development as referenced at the end of the consent (including the condition to limit extraction to 5ML). This advertisement is required to enable the general public to consider the amended Section 96 modification and invite submissions on the amended application.

The following amended Section 96 application which been received by Council and is the subject of NSW Land and Environment Court Proceedings No. 17/30773 may be viewed on Council's DA Tracking site located at www.tweed.nsw.gov.au/datracking for a period of fourteen (14) days from Wednesday 9 May 2018 to Wednesday 23 May 2018.

The proposal is not designated development and the Tweed Shire Council is the consent authority (however the Modification will be determined by the NSW Land & Environment Court at a future hearing date yet to be determined).

Applicant	Location	Proposal	File No.
L Karlos	Lot 1 DP 735658; No. 477 Urliup Road BILAMBIL	Amendment to Development Consent DA03/0445 for use of an existing stock & domestic water bore for the purpose of a rural industry comprising the harvesting & bottling of mineral water	DA03/0445.03

Proposed modification

- Deletion of Condition No. 3 which restricted the size of vehicle to six metres and;
- Deletion of all the conditions listed at the end of the consent under the headings 'General Terms of Approval' (including the condition to limit extraction to 5ML).

Any person may, during the period specified above, make a submission in writing to Council in relation to the Modification Application. Where a submission is in the form of an objection, then the grounds of objection are required to be specified.

In accordance with Clause 118 of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Regulations 2000, there is no right of appeal under Section 98 of the Act by an objector.

Any person may, during the above period, make a written submission to the General Manager of Council. It should also be noted that Council has adopted a policy whereby, on request, any submission including identifying particulars will be made public. Council will give consideration to the 'Public Interest' and requests for confidentiality by submitters in determining access to submission letters. However, the provisions of the Government Information (Public Access) Act 2009 – GIPAA may result in confidential submissions being released to an applicant.

Please note – Requirements regarding Disclosure of Political Gifts and Donations

A disclosure is required to be made in a statement accompanying the relevant development or planning application by a person who makes the application. In addition, a person who makes a written submission either objecting to or supporting a relevant development or planning application must also make a disclosure if the person has made a reportable political donation.

Further information regarding Donations and Gift Disclosure are available on Council's website www.tweed.nsw.gov.au/PlanningInformation
