Funding for civic projects

Projects in Tweed Heads and Murwillumbah are set to benefit from a Federal injection of $1 million in funds through the Building Better Regions Fund.

The projects to benefit were the Tweed Heads Civic and Cultural Centre Plaza and Social Enterprise Café and projects in Knox Park in Murwillumbah.

The Tweed Heads Civic and Cultural Centre Plaza and Social Enterprise Café will receive $564,000 towards the completion of the Tweed Civic and Cultural precinct.

The Tweed Heads Cultural and Administration Precinct was master planned in 2015 and Council has progressively invested in phases of the upgrade. This project is the final stage for the site development. This final stage is budgeted at $1.28 million and Council will be co-contributing on a dollar-for-dollar basis.

The upgrade will include:

- Construction of an outdoor plaza for cultural activities
- A social enterprise café to stimulate the local economy and address social issues
- Upgrading the entrance to the main buildings to provide universal access
- Upgrading technical resources and lighting for the auditorium to save energy and attract and increase contemporary activities.

Work on the Tweed Civic and Cultural Centre Plaza and Café will commence in 2018 for completion in 2019.

Meanwhile, the Murwillumbah Town Centre Revitalisation Project has been allocated $500,000 towards the building of a new entry plaza, refurbished bus shelter, amenities block and upgraded associated infrastructure in and around Knox Park.

Council will also provide additional funds to enable the completion of the Knox Park Stage Two project increasing Knox Park's appeal for residents of all ages, and prepare the park for the anticipated increase in visitor numbers.

Come down to the 'Love Pets Love Wildlife' event at Kingscliff on Sunday 29 July to see Catmantoo's skateboarding and performing cats, Boomer and Didga. Trainer Robert Dollwet shows Kooee Koala the use of a cat toy, one of the many ways to keep cats happy indoors. Robert's dog, Ice, seems pretty interested too. Check out the Catmantoo cats' tricks on Instagram and Youtube.

Join in free pet events at Kingscliff

Whether you love pets, native wildlife, trickster dogs or skateboarding cats there will be something for all animal lovers at the Love Pets Love Wildlife event later this month.

Council invites you to celebrate both the pets and wildlife in our lives with a fun family friendly morning at Kingscliff's Rowan Robinson Park on Sunday 29 July 2018 from 10am-1pm.

In addition, a Cool Cats workshop will be held on Saturday, 28 July at Kingscliff Community Hall from 2-4.30pm. Dr Jo Righetti will be talking about cats as pets and how we can keep them cool, calm and content. Bookings essential, please call Council on (02) 6670 2400.

First up at Sunday's event will be a free dog training session at 8am at Jack Bayliss Park with local dog trainer Julie Callow. Julie has trained dogs (and their owners) for over 25 years. This is a great opportunity for local dog owners to help connect with their dog and teach them basic commands such as sit, stay, come, and how to socialise with other animals. Please call Council on (02) 6670 2400 to book for this. The first 10 bookings will receive a doggy show bag at the training session.

The Family Fun Day will showcase some special animals that have been trained to perform or help people and wildlife. Animal trainer Shannon Maguire and Sam, the wildlife detection dog, will demonstrate how he can find koalas. You can have a close encounter at the Currumbin Wildlife Show, and see fascinating photos from wildlife cameras in the Tweed 'Wildlife After Dark' slideshow in Kingscliff Hall.

Catmantoo - cat trainer extraordinaire - will be there with his performing cats. Meet 'Didga' who was adopted from a shelter and stylish high-five cat 'Boomer'. Both have Guinness world records and will be performing on the day.

At 11am, an expert Q&A panel will answer audience questions on the topic 'Pets and Wildlife - can we have both?'

There are plenty of prizes and giveaways including a Tweed Ecocruises for two with lunch, pet hampers and cat scratching posts. Meet one of the many 'greeters' on the morning for entry forms and information. There will be fun kids' activities, pet stalls, the latest designs in cat enclosures, pet advice and a sausage sizzle with all proceeds going to the Tweed Valley Wildlife Carers.

Here's to 20 years!

Members of the Tweed's Aboriginal community and Tweed Shire Council celebrated 20 years of collaboration at gathering at the Minjungbal Museum at Tweed Heads South last Tuesday.

The event, recognised the significant contribution made by the Tweed Shire Aboriginal Advisory Committee (AAC). The committee is the liaison point between Council and the Aboriginal community.

It was an afternoon pride and reminiscing at the culturally significant site, celebrating the strong relationship and mutual understanding between the Aboriginal community and Council.

The afternoon featured a number of panel discussions on the history and hopes for the future for the committee, with representatives from both Council and the AAC expressing their thoughts on the successes and challenges the AAC had faced.

Significant achievements include, advocating for: an Aboriginal Community Development Officer on Council staff; Council's first Reconciliation Action Plan (RAP); the Aboriginal Cultural Heritage Mapping and Management Plan and the Aboriginal Statement of Commitment Policy.

Aunty Joyce Summers, Max Boyd and Jackie McDonald do the honours in cutting the cake at the 20th anniversary of the Tweed Shire Aboriginal Advisory Committee celebrations, watched by members of the local Aboriginal community and Council staff.

Clarrie Hall Dam wall raising plans reach milestone

Council achieved a significant milestone last week towards augmenting the shire's water supply by raising the wall of Clarrie Hall Dam.

The Department of Planning and Environment accepted Council's application for approval to proceed with the project as State Significant Infrastructure and has called for Council to apply for the environmental criteria against which the project will be assessed.

Council has now started work on its application for Preliminary Environmental Assessment to request the criteria, the Secretary Environmental Assessment Requirements (SEARS).

In its application for the project to be accepted as State Significant Infrastructure for water storage, Council advised the Government there was a requirement to augment the water supply by 2026.

The Tweed District water supply is a run-of-the-river supply augmented by releases from the 16,000-megalitre Clarrie Hall Dam.

"Option studies have consistently shown that raising Clarrie Hall Dam is the preferred option to increase the shire's stored water supply," Council Project Manager Robert Siebert said in the application.

Council proposes to raise the dam wall by 8.5 metres, trebling the dam's capacity to 42,300 megalitres and securing an adequate water supply for the shire to approximately 2046.

Meanwhile the Government has advised Council to continue to review Commonwealth protected matters with a view to making a referral under the EPBC Act as soon as possible.

The Flora and Fauna Assessment undertaken by Council as part of project planning has identified that several Commonwealth threatened species will be affected by the raising of the dam, including Mixophyes iterates (the giant barred frog), Syzygium hodgkinsoniae (red lily pilli) and lowland rainforest. Council is now working to mitigate those impacts.

Drones pose threat to osprey in nesting season

Winter is a time when an iconic coastal species, the Osprey is busy nesting and raising its young in the Tweed.

Unfortunately, the often difficult nesting period can be placed under threat by a number of factors, including drones.

Council's Threatened Species Project Officer Tanya Fountain said a drone may be perceived as a possible predator by an Osprey.

"If a parent bird is preoccupied with defending their nest from a drone, it could result in neglect of vulnerable eggs and chicks, reducing breeding success. Birds that attack drones could also be injured by moving blades," Ms Fountain said.

"Responsible use of drones can go a long way to minimising any negative impacts to nesting Ospreys."

Recreational drone users should always keep their vehicles away from wildlife and obey the Civil Aviation Safety Authorities recreational drone safety rules. Recreational drone users are also reminded that the Osprey is listed as a threatened species under the NSW Biodiversity Conservation Act. Under this Act it is an offence to harm or attempt to harm a threatened species.

"Ospreys are listed as vulnerable to extinction in NSW largely due to the loss of natural nesting sites – being big old trees along the coast. Construction of artificial nest structures, like the very familiar cradle at the Marine Rescue tower on Cudgen Creek, Kingscliff, are the only reason Ospreys continue to breed in the Tweed."

To report harm to a threatened species contact the NSW Office of Environment's Tweed Area office on (02) 6670 8600.

South Murwillumbah flood study in mail boxes

Council has dropped a survey form into every mail box in South Murwillumbah asking residents and business owners to provide information to help it complete a floodplain risk management study of the area.

The survey asks residents and businesses to respond to a number of questions about flood risk and flood response.

The South Murwillumbah Floodplain Risk Management Study, partly funded by the NSW Government and being undertaken by specialist flood consultants Catchment Simulation Solutions, will build on previous flood investigations and provide Council and emergency services with a detailed understanding of the existing flooding problems across South Murwillumbah.

It also will help identify measures that will best reduce the frequency, extent and depth of flooding and guide future development and re-development to be compatible with flood risk.

In March 2017, South Murwillumbah was one of the hardest hit areas sustaining widespread damage and losses to both businesses and homes, as well as public infrastructure. The suburb also was badly impacted in major floods in 1954, 1974 and 1989. Flooding rapidly cuts road access to the area and represents a significant risk to life.

Since the 2017 flood, Council has begun a number of projects designed to reduce the flood risk across South Murwillumbah, including voluntary house purchasing schemes and the ground-breaking $3 million industrial land swap. These projects are partly funded by the State Government.

"However, South Murwillumbah still has a significant flood risk and this study is designed to identify and evaluate additional options for reducing that risk," Manager Roads and Stormwater Danny Rose said.

"We encourage everyone who receives a survey to respond because the more information we get the better informed we become on this very real risk and our options to reduce that risk."

Another beautiful way to say goodbye

The striking granite memorial wall at Murwillumbah's Lawn Cemetery offers a fitting place for ash interment of a treasured loved one, or for planning your own resting place.

The elegant memorial is just one of a growing number of funeral service options provided by Tweed Shire Council, at three scenic locations across the Tweed.

Council offers a full range of high-quality, respectful and cost-effective services:

- Cremation
- A variety of scenic burial sites
- Picturesque and permanent sites for ashes

 TWEED SHIRE COUNCIL

Have your say on new accessible parking

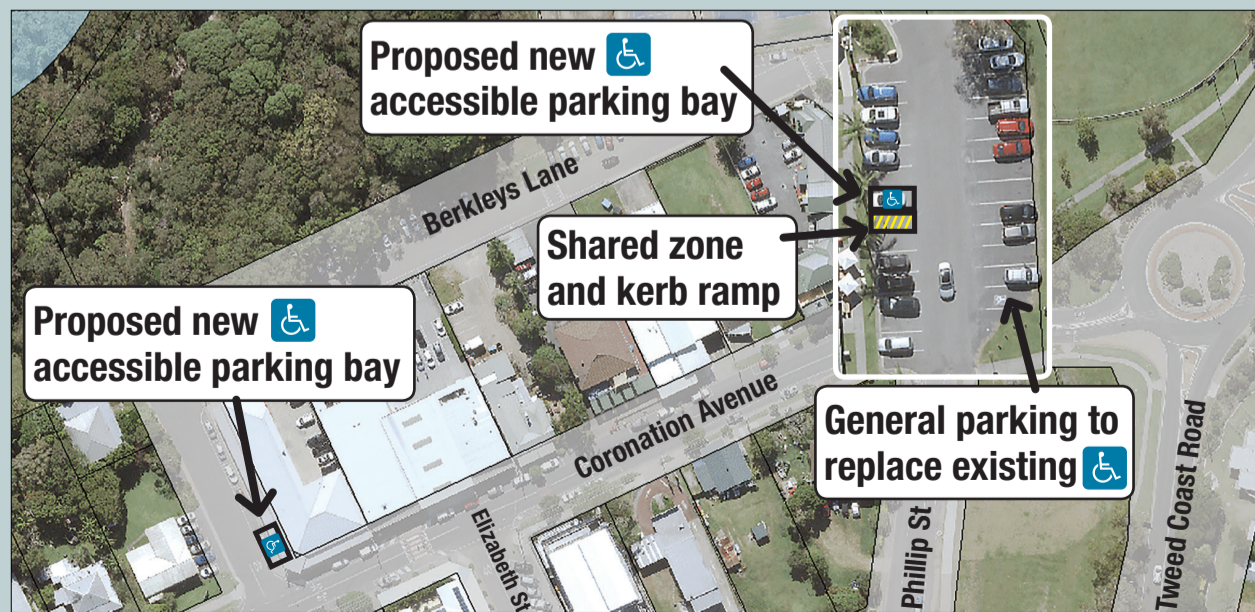

Council has reviewed the provision of accessible parking in the Pottsville town centre and is proposing to install two new accessible parking spaces in the Berkleys Lane precinct, as shown above, and remove the existing accessible parking space.

Council is unable to install accessible parking spaces in Coronation Avenue as the lane widths are too narrow and cannot accommodate compliant (or safe) accessible parking spaces.

Council is seeking comment from residents and businesses about the proposed accessible parking spaces in Berkleys Lane.

To have your say, please call Council on (02) 6670 2400 or email tsc@tweed.nsw.gov.au by Tuesday 7 August 2018.

Greg O'Donnell, Alison Parr and Audrey O'Donnell-Parr enjoyed taking part in the National Tree Day planting event on the Tweed River in 2016.

Join in tree fun

Tweed Shire Council and Tweed Landcare are hosting this year's National Tree Day planting event on the bank of Duroby Creek at Bilambil Road Park (accessed via Naponyah Road) from 9am – 1pm on Sunday 29 July.

Duroby Creek supports important habitats in the Terranora Broadwater estuary. This year's planting will add to restoration works undertaken by Council's Waterways Program along 1.8km from the mouth of Duroby Creek to Bilambil Rd.

Council has worked closely with Tweed Landcare and Bilambil Landcare volunteers for almost 20 years to restore over five kilometres of riparian land along Bilambil Creek. This year's planting is a great opportunity for the local community to join in the efforts to rehabilitate our precious waterways.

Please bring some morning tea to share, a wheelbarrow or tub and mulch fork or shovel for spreading mulch. Gloves, tea, coffee and drinking water will be provided.

For more information including a map of the project location, visit www.treeday.planetark.org/site/10018357 or contact Matt Bloor, Council Project Officer- Waterways on (02) 6670 2400 or mbloor@tweed.nsw.gov.au

Car spaces amnesty

Council has extended an amnesty on the amount of car parking small businesses need to provide or pay a contribution towards for a further 12 months.

Entrepreneurs considering establishing a business or expanding a business in Murwillumbah now have to 30 June 2019 to take advantage of Council's three car-parking space amnesty on their assessed car parking requirements.

Following the March 2017 flood, Council granted an amnesty on business development applications in the CBD for three car parking spaces to stimulate flood recovery.
