Staff pledge to drive so others survive

Council staff are taking a pledge en masse this week to drive so others survive.

It's National Road Safety Week (6–12 May) and you'll see Council vehicles out and about all week flying a yellow ribbon to remind everyone to be mindful of road safety and to drive as if your own family is on the road ahead.

If you see one of our vehicles displaying a ribbon you know that the driver has taken the pledge to avoid putting people at risk by speeding, driving while tired or while using a mobile phone.

Every year, more than 1,200 people are killed and another 35,000 seriously injured on Australian roads. Traffic injury is the biggest killer of Australian children under 15 and the second-biggest killer of all Australians aged between 15 and 24.

Take the pledge yourself at www.roadsafetyweek.net.au

National Road Safety Week is an annual initiative from the Safer Australian Roads and Highways (SARAH) Group, partnering road safety organisations and Government. The week highlights the impact of road trauma and ways to reduce it.

18-year-old Kyle, our local disability champion

Kyle Sculley, a positive voice for young people with disabilities.

Local Tweed teenager, Kyle Sculley has been successful in securing a role on the advisory group for People with Disability Australia (PWDA) and Youth Action. Kyle will participate in the NSW-based project which aims to increase the accessibility of youth services for young people with disability.

Council's Community Development Officer – Ageing and Disability Karen Collins said to have a Tweed resident included in this advisory group is wonderful.

"It's really beneficial for our community that Kyle has been recruited because it means that the Tweed is represented at this level," Ms Collins said.

Kyle won a certificate of merit in Tweed Shire Council's Access and Inclusion Awards in 2018 for his advocacy work supporting young people with disabilities.

Kyle will always be a positive voice for children with special needs and has participated in fundraising activities for the Tweed Hospital children's ward, including being chained to a bed in the cold in front of the Tweed Hospital for two hours raising $4,000 for charity.

"I have challenges in life but I live life to the fullest," Kyle said.

Council's Access and Inclusion Plan includes the goal to increase opportunities for inclusion of young people with disabilities and develop partnerships with youth sector organisations to promote access for inclusion. Improvements to fix the missing link at Faulks Park

Council starts work this week to build a missing link of shared-user path across informal parkland south of Faulks Park at Kingscliff.

The link will connect Cudgen Creek boardwalk and Faulks Park and clearly delineate pedestrian and cycling pathways at the irregularly shaped intersection of Marine Parade, Moss Street and the unnamed road that leads to the boat ramp.

Currently the pathways are confusing at the intersection, with overflow parking on the grass, misaligned kerb ramps and a lack of line-markings.

Three formal parking bays will be installed near the boat ramp to compensate the loss of informal parking.

In the second stage of the project, Council will demolish the old shelter near the boat ramp and build a new one to match those in Lions and Rowan Robinson parks.

The park furniture will be upgraded in the precinct and a new outdoor shower installed at the top of the boat ramp.

The area will be closed to the public during works.

In brief ...

Waste tip ②

A fresh green bin

Place raw and cooked meat/seafood scraps into a green bin liner or newspaper and place in the freezer. Throughout the week, repeat, unwrapping the same liner or newspaper, adding scraps and placing back in the freezer. The night before or morning of collection day, place in green bin. Hurray, fresh bins!

WATER WEEK 6 Check when your water meter is read at www.tweed.nsw.gov.au/MeterReading

How you sort your waste and what you place in your bins has a direct impact on waste fees and charges. Treat your green (and yellow) bins with care and only place correct items in them.

It costs less to process the yellow and green bins when they are used responsibly and have correct items in them, rather than spending additional money to sort them out after collection. The larger the red bin, the higher the cost due to the State Government waste levy which Council does not have control over.

The less sorting that needs to be done after collection and the less that goes to landfill, the better off our environment and bank accounts will be. For information about what goes in your bins visit www.tweed.nsw.gov.au/Waste or email waste@tweed.nsw.gov.au

Incorrect waste put into the green organics bin has to be removed by hand at an extra cost to Tweed ratepayers.

Resident and Ratepayer Association meetings
